

Table 47
Formations and Numbers in the NRA DVR, at 1 October 1922

This is the forces of the People's Revolutionary Army (DVR) of the Far Eastern Republic (NRA) just before the Primorsk operation, the last major fighting of the Civil War.

Data on agencies, units and subdivisions of the central and district offices, of some field units and subdivisions are combined.

Data on the availability of some types of arms and equipment are omitted.

The column "total" includes commanders, soldiers, administrative and economic staff, and non-combatants of the army.

	Command	Infantry	Cavalry	Soldiers	Personnel	Guns	MGs	Horses
1st TransBaikal Rifle Division (3 RR, 1 CR)	323	4 136	337	5 046	7 014	18	143	1 328
2nd PriAmur Rifle Division (3 RR, 1 CR)	512	4 156	593	5 627	9 232	22	206	1 688
36th Rifle Division (3 RR, 1 CR)	280	1 958	304	2 831	4 588	20	155	1 229
Independent Far East Cavalry Brigade (3 CR)	132	–	1 701	1 993	2 683	4	82	2 209
Ind. Blagoveshchensk Rifle Battalion	22	352	45	425	638	–	11	101
Railway Defense Troops (2 Ind. Bat.)	43	806	–	806	1 009	–	27	46
Border Troops (2 Ind. Bat, 5 Ind. Sq.)	54	391	319	710	1 019	–	36	595
Detached formations	503	468	–	2 424	9 560	37	172	1 230
Totals in DVR	1 869	12 267	3 299	19 862	35 743	101	832	8 426

The Army also included 8 armoured trains, an armoured car detachment and two aviation detachments.

There were also sizeable partisan detachments.

